WINE buffs turned out in force for the charity wine testing event held in Sa Vinya, Bendinat, last night.

It was for two good causes, the charitable organisations run by the Rotary Club and Robert Winsor, both of which have raised considerable funds for charity over the years. The finest wines on the international market were available, and there was also an auction of the renowned Vega Sicilia wines, thanks to the organisers, Mundi Drinks Palma.

At the time of writing the amount of money raised was not available, but judging by attendance, it will have been a princely sum.
